

THE BUCKINGHAM SUIT

This is the Buckingham Suit; it is fashion's latest dictate, and follows in every detail the mode as illustrated in garments made by Gotham's most exclusive tailors.

You will notice the collar is snug-fitting, the lapels are extra long, body of coat is broad, and buttoning with three buttons, slightly cutting away below last button, and the corners just rounded from being square. This coat is longer than the usual styles.

Trousers medium full in hips and tapering gracefully to moderate peg bottom, breaking slightly over instep.

Fabrics are fine imported worsteds in quiet patterns and fine Scotch chevrons in subdued mixtures. These are custom cloths employed in finest made-to-order garments.

Buckingham Suits,
$20, $25, $30, $35.

LICENSE RUSH IS STILL ON.
Thirty-Five Documents to Wed Issued Yesterday.

Another marriage license record was broken at the City Hall yesterday, thirty-five permits being issued. Friday has always been considered a light day in the marriage license clerk's office, and the number issued yesterday is more than twice the amount of any other Friday on record.

Following the unprecedented number of licenses issued Wednesday, it was thought that the remainder of the week would be very light, but yesterday afternoon saw a renewal of the rush on a modified scale.

Breckinridge Jones Says City's Development Has Been Consistent With Conservation.

MUCH NEW CAPITAL INVESTED.

Settlement of Southwest Has Helped to Promote Business Interests—Greater Building Activity After Fair.

In response to inquiries regarding the financial condition of St. Louis at the close of the World's Fair, Mr. Breckinridge
Jones, vice president of the Mississippi Valley Trust Company, gives the following statement, which contains valuable information:

"There has been no unnatural development, nor any development inconsistent with strict conservatism. I believe this statement will be verified by practically all those in financial lines in St. Louis.
"But, rather than have conclusions based upon any statement or expression of opinion from me, I think it better to make the following statement of facts, which are predicated on the annual statement of the Merchants' Exchange of St.
Louis for the year 1903.

"The city records show that the building permits in St. Louis have been as follows:

Year.	Number of Buildings.	Value of Buildings.	Value of Buildings.
1904	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1903	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1902	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1901	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1900	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1899	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1898	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1897	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1896	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1895	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1894	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1893	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1892	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1891	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1890	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1889	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1888	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1887	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1886	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1885	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1884	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1883	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1882	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1881	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000
1880	1,000	$1,000,000	$1,000,000

"This table shows that there were fewer brick buildings erected in 1903 than in any year from 1880 to 1903, and that the cost of all buildings erected in 1903 was less than in 1902, but little more than in 1901 and 1902, and that the average for the three years is about the same as the average for the years from 1880 to 1903. It will be noted that there was an increase last year and also the year before in the number of frame buildings. That occurs partly from the number of temporary structures that were erected about the entrance to the Fair grounds. These temporary buildings are not expensive, and, no doubt, between them and the permanent buildings,
NO SPASMATIC INCREASE.

"As a further test of the fact that there has been no spasmodic increase in real estate value, I give the following statement, showing the amount of real and personal property assessed in St. Louis:

Year.	Real Estate.	Personal.	Total.
1904	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1903	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1902	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1901	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1900	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1899	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1898	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1897	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1896	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1895	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1894	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1893	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000

1889	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1888	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1887	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1886	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1885	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1884	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000
1883	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$2,000,000

JUDGE CARROLL GETS TURKEY.
Little Rock Man Whom Justice Married Sends Present.

Justice Robert J. Carroll yesterday received a present of a live turkey from S.
B. Williams of Little Rock, Ark., whom he married several months ago.
The turkey is a fine specimen, being 4 feet from bill to tip of tail, and stands
2 inches high. Judge Carroll estimates that he weighs thirty-five pounds.
Mr. Williams evidently intended the present for Judge Carroll Thanksgiving dinner. Unfortunately for the Judge and fortunately for the turkey, the bird arrived a day late.

The turkey occupied a crate to himself and did not appear to have suffered any inconvenience by the trip. The crate was marked: "Judge Bobbie Carroll, St. Louis, Mo."
The bird will be served for dinner at the Carroll residence to-morrow.

MRS. LANGDON MUST STAY IN JAIL
Court Denies Request That She Be Sent to City Hospital After Jury Is Unable to Agree.

When the jury in the case against Mrs. Mary E. Langdon announced yesterday that they were unable to reach a verdict the defendant laid her head on the table and wept. The long suspense left her apparently in a condition of collapse.

The case was given to the jury Wednesday evening and was in the custody of the Sheriff until Judge Foster's court convened yesterday morning. They reported that they had not reached a verdict and believed that they would be unable to do so.

On this statement Judge Foster ordered the jury discharged and ordered a record of mistrial entered.

Joseph Wheeler, attorney for Mrs. Langdon, asked that the court order her taken to the City Hospital. Doctors Scherck and Lawrence examined Mrs. Langdon and declared she should remain in jail and the order was refused. The date for the retrial was not set.

COLBURN CLAIMS TO BE THE ORIGINAL "UNCLE SAM."

Walks From New York to St. Louis
Lecturing on Constitution and Declaration of Independence.

Frank S. Colburn, who claims that he is the original living "Uncle Sam," is at the present time in St. Louis, having arrived here yesterday from New York City, walking the entire distance.

Colburn states that his resemblance to the original, as handed down to modern days by caricaturists, was derived by eight years of study of the character and all of the details that it is supposed to embody.

He walked across the Continent in 1867, expounding the Constitution and Declaration of Independence, which he claims he knows from beginning to end, and started on his present journey on June 29 of this year from New York City.

Colburn is 66 years old, the same age as President Roosevelt, and his birthday comes within thirteen days of that of the President.

He claims that his sole idea in assuming this role is to enlighten the American people on the Constitution and Declaration of Independence, two documents which he thinks are held in ignorance by the majority of the American people.

Colburn never makes his journeys except by walking, and it is his intention of going from here to the Pacific coast, after he has spent about a week in this city.

POSTMASTER SIGNS MAUCH'S BOND FOR $1,000.

Janitor Charged With Riffing Mails
Says He Doesn't Know Why He Did It.

Charles H. Mauch, janitor of the Post Office at Poplar Bluff, Mo., who was arrested on the charge of rifling the mails, paid $25 yesterday, the amount which it is alleged he embezzled, and gave bond in the sum of $1,000.

W. R. Randall, Postmaster at Poplar Bluff, signed Mauch's bond, after which Mauch was released. His trial will come up about January 5.

Mauch admits that he took the money, but says he doesn't know why he did it. Now that he realizes the full import of the act, which he claims did not impress him at the time, he is remorseful. The old man wept in the United States Marshal's office yesterday as he told his story. The fact that he has a wife and six children to provide for makes his situation the more pitiable.

MAY PREPARE NEW CONTRACT.
To Provide for Lighting of Mount Pleasant and Carondelet.

Should the House of Delegates continue putting off action regarding the renewal of the street lighting contract in Mount Pleasant and Carondelet, an emergency contract will probably be drawn up. The present contract expires February 1.

Thomas Carter, Supervisor of City Lighting, has been in communication with the company now giving service, and has received the assurance that an emergency contract would be entered into at the same price as is now being paid by the city.

Supervisor Carter does not expect that there will be much further delay in the House, but he wants to be prepared for the southern part of the city will not be left in darkness after the expiration of the present contract.
